CALLING YOUNG MUSICIANS!

NEW GENERATION
SYMPHONY
ORCHESTRA
Artistic director Hugo Ticiati

What's in Store?

- Join aspiring musicians across Europe to form a symphony orchestra
- A week of rehearsals and masterclasses in the Queen Silvia Concert Hall in Stockholm
- Workshops in movement, dance, breath, rhythm, meditation and improvisation
- Performances in Stockholm and at Berlin Konzerthaus at the Young Euro Classic Festival
- Leading European players will coach the orchestra and perform alongside the new generation of artists

Costs

The course is free of charge, including food during the rehearsal period in Stockholm, and travel to and from Berlin, and accommodation in Berlin.

Participants are expected to take care of their travel to and from Stockholm, their accommodation in Stockholm, and food in Berlin.

A limited number of scholarships are available to cover part or all of these costs.

Who Can Apply?

All orchestral instrumentalists and pianists aged 16 to 28.

How Do I Apply? Latest 1 April 2025

Send one to three YouTube videos totalling 10–15 minutes with one or more pieces that clearly reflect the level of your playing. Each piece or excerpt is to be recorded in one take. Pianists are asked to include their own selection of excerpts from Copland's Appalachian Spring.

Please send your application by email to newgeneration@omodernt.com including:

Name and surname | Age | Country of residence | Instrument | Place of study (if applicable) | YouTube link(s)

If financial reasons prevent you from taking part and you wish to apply for an additional scholarship for travel and accommodation, please include a short text outlining your motivation and financial circumstances.

Results will be announced on 14 April.
